

Greenwood Genetic Center Hosts Rare Disease Workshop

“In December 2017, the Greenwood Genetic Center (GCC) convened and hosted a workshop in Greenwood, SC in association with the Snyder-Robinson Foundation. Participants in the workshop included nationally-recognized basic scientists, physicians who work with patients with SRS, representatives of companies interested in developing therapeutics, and leaders from the SRS Foundation representing the interests of families.”

A full press release is posted on GCC’s website below:

<http://www.ggc.org/education/media/press-releases/925-ggc-host-ed-rare-disease-treatment-workshop.html>